Company Description

Ingedia Nutritional is dedicated to ingredients and solutions for health and nutrition industries.

Expert in the dairy ingredients industry, Ingedia group, founded in 1991, has specialized in the production and marketing of functional and nutritional ingredients for more than 20 years.

Ingedia Nutritional is a division of Ingedia group and was created in 2007 in Arras, France. Its objective is to develop, manufacture and market worldwide nutritional ingredients and unique bioactives for innovative Health & Nutrition companies.

Ingedia Nutritional offers customers infinite possibilities through a wide range of scientifically grounded innovative ingredients and turnkey nutritional solutions available internationally. Expert teams, committed to client's project achievement can provide a valuable support from concept to launch according to each product development specific needs.

Ingedia Nutritional displays two original ranges designed for their clients' end-product success, functional foods or dietary supplements:

The "Nutritional Solutions" range provides specialty ingredients to clinical, infant, diet and sports nutrition industries. Those innovative ingredients, mainly premium native milk protein isolates or hydrolysates, combine outstanding technological and nutritional functionalities to help manufacturers capture new markets. Boosting nutritional properties of end-products does not mean sacrificing texture or taste, as Nutritional Solutions ingredients are specifically developed to maintain a high sensory profile.

The "Unique Bio Actives" range features ingredients with clinically proven effectiveness. Most of them are patented and some benefit from health claim authorizations that comply with the new regulations, thus offering many ways to achieve persuasive communication. They can readily be used in dietary supplements or be incorporated into food and beverage recipes for a guaranteed health benefit that fulfil consumers' expectations.
